

Standards for Animal Breeding Services

A veterinary paraprofessional who has completed an artificial insemination course at an institution approved by the Board may apply for registration as a breeding service provider.

A person shall offer veterinary breeding services if he is registered under this Act.